Giorgio Sans Font Family

Giorgio Sans is based on a true traditional typeface, a style of lettering that has more or less been lost since the advent of sans-serif typefaces like Helvetica. Giorgio Sans comes in a full family (serifed and sans-serifed fonts), as well as a variety of weights. Giorgio Sans is incredibly elegant, and embodies all of the classically beautiful qualities of a typeface that has become so lost in the modern age. I've used this free font for some time in books I have designed. It is one of the few fonts that I don't use a lot in book design, but as a body text font, it is a welcome addition. I really like the Arial family as well and often use Arial as a trade off of it. Giorgio Sans by Helvetica Pet, Web Archive the font is very nice, but i would say that it is only good for straight pieces of writing, I think this font is more suitable for magazines as an IDTT alternative. Balthazar's Book: Tag Lines, -Michael Buerger, FontBakery. To do, To find, To touch, To feel, To learn To love and to be loved (and to love to learn). To play, To rest, To be silent, To seek, to dream, To remember, To forget, To grow, To be together, To tell, To listen, To sing, To laugh, To be tired, To feel love, To be hated, To die. To love each other, To be seen. For the homeless, for the hungry, for the sad, for the lonely, for the hurting, for the dying, and for the lost, for the dying, for the broken, for the dying. For the children, for the children. For the coming generations, for all of us. For the truth, for the truth. For the wisdom of the ages, for the healing of the soul, for the healing of the heart, for the heart. For the wisdom of the ages, for the healing of the heart, for the healing of the heart. For the wisdom of the ages, for the healing of the heart, for the healing of the heart. For the healing of the heart, for the healing of the heart. For the healing of the heart, for the healing of the heart. For the wisdom of the ages, for the healing of the soul, for the healing of the soul. For the healing of the soul, for the healing of the soul. For the healing of the soul, for the healing of the soul. For the healing of the soul, for the healing of the soul. For the healing of the soul, for the healing of the soul. For the wisdom of the ages, for the healing of the body, for the healing of the body. For the healing of the body, for the healing of the body. For the healing of the body, for the healing of the body. For the healing of the body, for the healing of the body.
